Financial Commitment to Becoming a Chapter of Kappa Delta Rho

In total, it costs $440 per member to join the organization and $1,500 for the chapter to Charter. This is among the most inexpensive in fees from the NIC organizations. As a group grows from Group of Intent to Provisional Chapter status, the National dues and Risk Management fees match what all active chapters are responsible for. Additionally, individual chapters often set their own amount of local chapter dues to operate successfully, hold functions, and implement any additional programming the chapter is in favor of.

All dues and fees are collected online via Legfi.com.

The New Member Scholarship

One scholarship, the New Member Scholarship, rewards members who uphold their academic commitment. This $100 scholarship, sent to the University and applied to the Brother's tuition, is provided to new members who obtain a 3.0 GPA during their new member education period and maintain good standing with the National Fraternity. This scholarship only applies to Brothers who have paid all fees and who submit an application that includes their transcript.
